Background. Metal-organic frameworks (MOFs) are made by linking inorganic and organic units by strong bonds (reticular synthesis). The flexibility with which the constituents' geometry, size, and functionality can be varied has led to more than 20,000 different MOFs being reported and studied within the past decade.

Germanium is a chemical element with symbol Ge and atomic number 32. It is a lustrous, hard, grayish-white metalloid in the carbon group, chemically similar to its group neighbors tin and silicon. Pure germanium is a semiconductor with an appearance similar to elemental silicon. Like silicon, germanium naturally reacts and forms complexes with oxygen in nature.

Fullerene chemistry is a field of organic chemistry devoted to the chemical properties of fullerenes. Research in this field is driven by the need to functionalize fullerenes and tune their properties. For example, fullerene is notoriously insoluble and adding a suitable group can enhance solubility. By adding a polymerizable group, a fullerene polymer can be obtained. Functionalized ...

Built to perform: A facile, one-step hydrothermal method is used to synthesize a 3D, symmetric, flowerlike Sb₂S₃ nanostructure (see figure) for application as a photoelectric material. The structure is composed of numerous nanoneedles, which provided a large void fraction and specific surface area, and has better electrocatalytic activity and charge-transfer ability than that of platinum.

Chemistry comes into play in the form of chemical probes or as compounds being evaluated as potential leads or drugs. The use of chemical probes to elucidate biology is the basis of chemical genomics.
